

COMINGS AND GOINGS OF THE SMART SET

Mrs. Hoothe and Mrs. Hicks of Los Angeles, who have spent the past month in the islands, left Wednesday on the Wilhelmina for the coast and will spend a few weeks in San Francisco before leaving for their southern home. Last Saturday these ladies were the hostesses at an elaborately appointed dinner at the Moana Hotel. The guests being Mr. and Mrs. John Trenholm Warren and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Clark. The table decorations were in long-stemmed coral-tinted dahlias and ferns. The dinner was preceded by an automobile ride. Both ladies are charmed with Honolulu and hope to return at some future time.

Ex-Governor and Mrs. Fort of New Jersey, their daughter, Miss Fort and Miss Osborne, are registered at the Moana Hotel. The quartette have been traveling around the world, for the last year and a half. Although they were intensely interested in the different countries of Europe and the Orient, they claim that none of the places have had the charm and fascination or have appealed to them like the Paradise of the Pacific. They are leaving today on the Nippon Maru, but will return to Honolulu next winter.

Captain and Mrs. Game, the former is the local Quartermaster of the U. S. Army have leased the Charles Crane residence at 1545 Kewala street. The Captain and his attractive young wife, have taken up a temporary residence at the Seaside. There "at home" day on Tuesdays of each week, would give one the impression of a formal reception, for they are so popular, and their friends have been eager to accord them a warm welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivers' Tea. Thursday afternoon an informal tea was given by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ivers at their home on College Hill. A few friends were invited to witness the cricket match that was scheduled to take place on the Punahou Athletic Club grounds that are situated opposite the Ivers' home on Punahou Ave. After witnessing the closely contested matches delicious refreshments were served on the lawn. A handsome table was placed under the spreading algeroba trees, bedecked with golden shower and smilax. At this table Mrs. Gerrit Wilder served coffee and Mrs. Arthur Wilder poured tea. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Wilder, Mrs. E. Holmes of Berkeley, Professor and Mrs. M. M. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Wilder, Captain and Mrs. Clifton Carter, U. S. A., Judge and Mrs. Arthur Wilder, Mrs. Frederick Macfarlane, Miss Alice Macfarlane, Miss Bernice Hartwell, Mrs. Kelley, Mrs. Andrew Fuller, Mr. Richard Wright, Mr. Will Roth. A number of the Sorority girls who are visiting in Honolulu belonged to the same college fraternity of which Mrs. Richard Ivers was a member. They and their chaperones were included on the invitational list.

Dr. and Mrs. Waterhouse's Dinner. In honor of the coronation of King George V and Queen Mary a large floral English flag composed of red carnations on a floral background of blue made a stunning decoration for the dinner, when Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Waterhouse entertained Thursday evening. At the four corners of the flag were placed silver candlesticks ornamented with red silk shades. The place cards were embossed with American flags and the "Union Jack." After dinner the host, hostess and their guests motored to the coronation ball that was given on that evening at the Moana Hotel. Among those present were Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Waterhouse, Captain and Mrs. Sturgis of the Fifth Cavalry, Miss Rooney of San Francisco, Miss Gertrude Harding, Miss Margaret Waterhouse, Miss Lil Paty, Colonel Wilder, Mr. Lawrence Judd, Mr. Robert Thompson, Captain Moor Falls, U. S. A., and others.

Mrs. Murphy's Four O'clock Tea. Monday afternoon, Mrs. Augustus Murphy entertained informally at a 4 o'clock tea. The invitations were issued by telephone, a score of friends were invited. The affair was in honor of Mrs. George Lyeurgus who left two days later for a trip to California, and possibly to Europe. The Murphys home on the corner of Victoria and Thurston Avenue was tastefully decorated with mauve colored asters and dahlias. Refreshments were served at small tables that were ornamented with asters. Most of Mrs. Murphy's affairs are informal, but her hospitality is renowned and her invitations are eagerly accepted. At Monday's affair beside the hostess and guest of honor were: Mrs. Carl du Rol, Mrs. Jesse McChesney, Mrs. H. S. Gray, Mrs. George Kluegel, Miss Margaret Lishman, Mrs. George Augustus, Mrs. Isabelle Creighton, Mrs. R. Gay, Mrs. John Lucas, Mrs. R. W. Robinson, Mrs. A. Clark, Mrs. A. G. M. Robertson, Miss Grace Carroll, Mrs. George Ross, Miss Mollie Grace, Miss Sadie McLain, Mrs. Elizabeth Church.

Mr. and Mrs. William Love's Dinner. A charming finale to the week's hospitalities was a dinner of eight covers given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Love in honor of Mr. and Mrs. D. Howard Hitchcock, Friday evening. The entire affair was beautiful in shades of yellow. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. William Love, Mr. and Mrs. D. Howard Hitchcock, Doctor and Mrs. Shepherd and Mr. and Mrs. Sutton.
